SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The Chief Financial Officer is designated as the State Fire Marshal, operating through the Division of State Fire Marshal (division), and tasked with regulating fire service providers. The division is responsible for establishing, by rule, a Minimum Standards Course as the training and educational curriculum required in order for a firefighter to obtain a Firefighter Certificate of Compliance (FCOC) or for a volunteer firefighter to obtain a Certificate of Completion.

The bill creates a Firefighter Emeritus designation for firefighters and volunteer firefighters. Specifically, the bill:

- Provides that a firefighter or volunteer firefighter who has been employed by a fire service provider, is recorded on the fire service provider's roster in the division's electronic database, or who was previous certified as a firefighter or volunteer firefighter may apply for the designation if the individual has at least 20 years of service and must be in good standing with his or her most recent fire service provider;
- Specifies the firefighter or volunteer firefighter can have his or her Certificate of Compliance or Certificate of Completion placed into the Firefighter Emeritus designation at the time the person is required to renew the Certificate of Compliance or Completion;
- Provides for the division to issue the Firefighter Emeritus designation in its online electronic database after a firefighter's four-year period;
- Specifies that if a firefighter's Certificate of Compliance or Completion is current upon the approval of a Firefighter Emeritus designation, and he or she applies to renew the certification within the first four years after the date of approval, he or she must successfully complete the Minimum Standards course examination;
- Provides that if the Firefighter Certificate of Compliance or Completion is expired upon the Firefighter Emeritus designation, and he or she wants to perform firefighting services, the person must complete the Minimum Standards Course and course examination; and
- Authorizes the division to adopt rules pursuant to its authority in s. 633.104(1), F.S.

The bill will have an insignificant negative fiscal impact on the Department of Financial Services expenditures for contracted resources to implement the provisions of the Bill. The bill does not appear to have a fiscal impact on local governments.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Current Situation

Chapter 633, F.S., governs state law on fire prevention and control. The Chief Financial Officer is designated as the State Fire Marshal, operating through the Division of State Fire Marshal (division),¹ and tasked with regulating fire service providers. The division is responsible for establishing, by rule, a Minimum Standards Course as the training and educational curriculum required in order for a firefighter to obtain a Firefighter Certificate of Compliance (FCOC).² A FCOC is issued by the division to an individual who does all of the following:³

- Satisfactorily completes the Minimum Standards Course or has satisfactorily completed training for firefighters in another state which has been determined by the division to be at least the equivalent of the training required for the Minimum Standards Course;
- Passes the Minimum Standards Course examination within 12 months after completing the required courses; and
- Meets the character and fitness requirements in s. 633.412, F.S.

“Certification” or “certified” is defined as the act of holding a current and valid certificate.⁴ A “fire service provider” is defined as a municipality or county, the state, the division, or any political subdivision of the state, including authorities and special districts, that employs firefighters or uses volunteer firefighters to provide fire extinguishment or fire prevention services for the protection of life and property. The term includes any organization under contract or other agreement with such entity to provide such services.⁵

In order for a firefighter to retain/renew his or her FCOC, every 4 years he or she must:⁶

- Be active as a firefighter;
- Maintain a current and valid fire service instructor certificate, instruct at least 40 hours during the 4-year period, and provide proof of such instruction to the division, which proof must be registered in an electronic database designated by the division;
- Within 6 months before the 4-year period expires, successfully complete a Firefighter Retention Refresher Course consisting of a minimum of 40 hours of training to be prescribed by rule; and
- Within 6 months before the 4-year period expires, successfully retake and pass the Minimum Standards Course examination.

Volunteer Firefighters Certificate of Completion

The division is required to establish the courses and course examinations required to receive the Volunteer Firefighter Certificate of Completion.⁷ The training for a volunteer firefighter requires

² Section 633.408(1)(a), F.S.

³ Section 633.408(4), F.S.

⁴ Section 633.426(1)(b), F.S.

⁵ Section 633.102(13), F.S.

⁶ Section 633.414(1), F.S.

⁷ Section 633.408(1)(b), F.S.

completion of Part I of the Minimum Standards Course.⁸ The Part I training curriculum is 206 hours of training and the following academic components:⁹

- Firefighter I Curriculum - consisting of classroom and live fire based core training.
- National Incident Management System – focusing on the history, features, principles and organizational structure of the incident command.
- Wildland Firefighter Training – consisting of curriculum and field exercises that address the basic skills required of all wildland firefighters who must understand the behavior and factors that affect the spread of wildfires.
- EMS First Responder – consisting of curriculum that is an introduction to basic life support and emergency care.

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill creates a Firefighter Emeritus designation for firefighters. A firefighter or volunteer firefighter who is recorded on a fire service provider roster in the division's online electronic database, or who was previously certified as a firefighter or volunteer firefighter in Florida, is authorized to apply for the designation if the individual has at least 20 years of service and either is in good standing with his or her most recent fire service provider or has served as a volunteer firefighter and is in good standing with his or her most recent fire service provider.

A firefighter is authorized to have his or her FCOC or a Volunteer Firefighter Certificate of Completion placed into the Firefighter Emeritus designation by applying to the division at the time required to renew the Certificate and the application must be made on a form prescribed by the division.

An individual who holds the Firefighter Emeritus designation is not authorized to engage in firefighting activities unless he or she holds a current and valid Firefighter Certificate of Compliance or Special Certificate of Compliance issued by the division.

After the division approves a currently employed firefighter's Firefighter Emeritus designation, the division will issue in its online electronic database the designation upon the end of each four-year period.

If a firefighter applies to renew his or her current FCOC or a Volunteer Firefighter Certificate of Completion within the first four years after the date of approval of their Firefighter Emeritus designation, then he or she must successfully complete the Minimum Standards course examination. However, if a firefighter's FCOC or a Volunteer Firefighter Certificate of Completion has expired upon the Firefighter Emeritus designation and he or she wishes to perform firefighter services, then the firefighter must successfully complete the Minimum Standards Course and course examination and the requirements in s. 633.412, F.S.

Lastly, the bill authorizes the division to adopt rules pursuant to its authority in s. 633.104(1), F.S., to administer the provisions of the bill.
